

Hello, ACCP-approved schools.

The #1 question coming to AHDI from military spouses regards funding. We are working diligently with the Department of Labor as well as individual states to make ongoing funding available for these potential MT students enrolling in the Registered Apprenticeship Program. Undoubtedly you each implement forms of funding to facilitate this workforce.

There will soon be too many schools for us to continue to counsel inquirers to call and visit with each administrator to help narrow down "Choosing an MT School." We will put small icons by your school name (as you find with motels that depict a bed, silverware, water waves, etc.) to indicate to the seeker at a glance what attributes your school offers. <http://www.ahdionline.org/scriptcontent/mtapproved.cfm>

This is optional for you: Identify each item below that describes your school and return this memo to me, and we will create "value added" to our website on your behalf. Feel free to note any other attributes that you feel would be important to include and we will do our best.

- VA funds
- Pell grants
- specialized grants (may elaborate)
- individual loans (may elaborate)
- Workforce Investment Act (WIA) funds
- GI Bill
- federal government tuition reimbursement for active military, to include military reserves
- graduated payments / payment plans
- other (may elaborate)
- bricks and mortar
- distance (online) learning
- both bricks-and-mortar as well as distance (online) classes
- open enrollment
- semester or seasonal enrollment
- current AHDI (formerly AAMT) member
- other (may elaborate)